

MAKE EVERY VOTE COUNT—ALWAYS!

PPR 123: 'Perfect Proportional Representation' + 'Instant Runoff Voting' = 'True' Democracy!

PPR 123: PERFECT PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION, AS SIMPLE AS '1-2-3'!

PPR 123 gives us a choice that is simple, clear, and quite compelling:

Should Citizens choose to remain hostage to the First-Past-the-Post (FPTP) electoral system that:

- (a) rewards parties that engage in divisive and negative political strategies (hence such tactics become the norm);
- (b) frustrates so many citizens into either not voting—or voting 'strategically' for a party that is not their true preference;
- (c) gives voters a less than 50% chance that their vote will count—for just one day—and even then only if they vote for the winner;
- (d) violates the most fundamental principles of democracy by electing many (if not most) representatives with far less than a majority of votes—and, even worse, by contemptuously distorting the 'will-of-the-people' with a grossly unrepresentative balance of voting power in Parliament;
- (e) sometimes even elects a 'wrongful' government—i.e. a party that obtained fewer votes than a losing party.

Or, should Citizens now demand the adoption of Perfect Proportional Representation (PPR 123), which is the only electoral reform that:

- (a) rewards parties that engage in constructive and cooperative politics (hence hopefully more positive and respectful relationships between the parties and with citizens);
- (b) promotes citizen participation by Making Every Vote Count—and by empowering every voter with a risk-free vote for the Party that is their 'true' 1st-choice;
- (c) provides a 100% guarantee that each Citizen's vote will count for the whole term of Parliament—with every vote in Parliament (regardless who wins)?
- (d) ensures true democratic legitimacy of all elected representatives, and Perfect Proportional Representation in the balance of voting power in Parliament!

We-the-People of the 21st Century expect, deserve and should now demand a truly honest voting system, as the foundation for a new and better kind of democracy. Democracy is an unfulfilled promise, an unfinished project and evolving ideal; it's time to bring Democracy into the digital age!

PPR 123 is simply the best solution—and as simple as '1-2-3'! Here's how it works:

1. Each Citizen freely votes for their 'true' 1st-choice—guaranteed that this vote will always count for that Party—and will never be thrown away—even if that candidate is defeated.

Result: voters will never again need to 'hold their nose' and 'vote strategically' for 'the lesser of evils'!

2. Citizens may also vote for their 2nd and 3rd-choices. This is an important part of PPR123—because it makes everyone and everything more honest—the voters, the parties, and the voting system!

By having 2nd and 3rd-choices, voters are free to cast their 1st-choice vote for their ‘true preference’, if that preferred candidate loses—their 2nd or 3rd-choices enable their vote to still work for them (possibly with ‘strategic voting’) to produce an acceptable outcome.

Result: elections will finally be a true expression of the ‘will of the People’—based on honest voting.

The PPR123 voting system raises the standard of democracy by requiring every Representative to be elected with the support of the majority (>50%) of voters. This is possible only by including 2nd and 3rd-choice votes, through ‘Instant Runoff Voting’ (or ‘Alternative Vote’)—widely-used (e.g. for Australia’s national elections since 1919)—an iterative process that works the same way parties elect their leaders. (i.e. All 1st-choice votes are counted; if no candidate has a majority, the bottom candidate is dropped, and their votes are transferred to those voter’s next choice; the process continues until the winner is elected with a majority.)

Result: the PPR123 electoral system ensures every elected Representative is the ‘rightful’ winner supported by most of the voters (i.e. ‘true democratic legitimacy’ based on ‘majority rule’).

3. The political parties will be motivated to be more cooperative, and less inclined to run divisive and negative campaigns—because 2nd and 3rd-choice votes would probably be essential to their success.

(In Canada’s 2015 election, 206 Representatives (61%) were elected with less than half of the votes).

Result: more positive and cooperative political behaviour—in elections and in Parliament.

PPR123 gives Perfect Proportional Representation for all parties, in the simplest and best way possible, by making the Citizen’s Vote the fundamental unit (and direct source) of all voting power in Parliament:

- Parliamentary Voting Power of each Party = their total number of Citizens’ votes (1st-choice only) (rather than the number of Representatives elected by each Party). Indeed, the democratic right of equal voting power rightly belongs to each Citizen—rather than their elected Representatives.
- No 1st-choice vote is ever thrown away (i.e. for every party with at least one elected Representative).
- Every elected Representative keeps all of their 1st-choice votes.
- Each party retains all of the 1st-choice votes for their defeated candidates.
- Each party reassigns all retained votes amongst their elected Representatives [with the opportunity to rebalance voting power (e.g. gender parity etc.) to counteract demographic under-representation].
- With every vote in Parliament, each Representative casts ‘proxy’ votes on behalf of all Citizens whose votes have been entrusted to them (with 21st Century digital technology, counting millions of Citizens’ votes is just as easy—instantaneous and perfect—as counting hundreds of Representatives’ votes).

[This voting process is like the standard practice in corporate shareholder democracy, where shareholders’ votes are cast on their behalf (i.e. in their absence) through ‘proxy’ voting. In a democracy, all adult Citizens have equal political rights as ‘shareholder owners’ with one equal share—and entitled to one equal vote—which should always be counted, and never thrown away, by any voting system!]
